

LOCALLY LOVED

Students' Favorite Stops Around LASA

ELLA LILLY | photo editors
ZIA HARVEY

THE ART OF COFFEE Walking into the flagship Greater Goods, you're met with a minimalistic farmhouse style coffee shop. A variety of people choose to study, make friends, and enjoy coffee here as it's packed any time of the week. photo by Ella Lilly

Greater Goods Coffee

The flagship Greater Goods, located on 5th Street, features a collaborative workspace, popular coffee, and even a training lab to learn about the art of coffee. Known for their matcha and variety of coffee blends, Greater Good's is a local and LASA student favorite according to the Liberator instagram poll. They additionally offer classes to learn how to brew coffee as a team-building exercise, or for fun.

MAGNIFICENT MATCHA Matcha lovers fawn over the high quality and many options of ways to serve it. One can order a matcha latte to a matcha fizz to a matcha americano. photo by Ella Lilly

"Greater Goods is my favorite place for a quick coffee shop, to study for a few hours, or meet friends. I'm picky about my coffee, but I've never been disappointed by their lattes. I love the minimalistic style, and the couch under the bookshelf is my favorite cozy place to hang out."

- Junior Agam Zadok

UROKO

Uroko is nested inside Springdale General and is known to be a sort of hidden gem. They have a variety of sushi rolls, sashimi, and appetizers, but they are known for their temaki, which is essentially sushi rolled in a cone. You can order it at the store or preorder a DIY temaki kit to make it yourself at home.

A HOT SPOT Located inside Springdale general, you can order a Japanese meal, grab a coffee at Medici, or stop by the French bakery Julie Myrtille. Spring General also has a variety of seating options to settle down and do homework. photos by Zia Harvey

"My friends and I love going to Uroko during lunch. My personal favorite is the salmon sushi burrito, but I think there are a lot of great options on the menu. The service there is awesome and I love the vibes. I would definitely recommend."

- Sophomore Dedepya Rudrarju

Sa-Tén

Sa-Tén Coffee and Eats may look like an average coffee shop, however, they serve a range of items such as croissants, katsu chicken, many types of toast, and black sesame lattes. Many people take advantage of its cozy interior to study. It's especially popular with LASA seniors, who can leave campus and grab a quick lunch seven minutes east of LASA.

"Sa-Tén is definitely pricey for a regular stop but every once in a while I like to spoil myself on the weekends and study there. There are two locations (one near lasa and one near my house) and they're both pretty small, so I like to get there early and get settled before the morning rush. My absolute favorite Sa Ten offering, however, is their food. It's so, so good— like, Asian inspired drinks and small dishes that are really well done. One thing is that they close at 5pm so I almost never go after school."

- Junior Sofia Francis

A VARIETY OF OPTIONS Sa-Tén is a common lunch spots but they also serve special drinks. Pictured above is the yuzu mixed berry lemonade (left) and the rose matcha latte (right). photos by Ella Lilly